Our stair treads selection comes from a few of the same films used in producing our everyday running line flooring. The film selected for the stair treads may have pictures of wood checking, rough sawn marks, and other rustic characteristics of what a real hardwood might look like. It is not considered a flaw nor defect should any of these characteristics be found on the nose of the stair tread or any other places on the stair tread. As always, we encourage you to inspect your purchase prior to installation. No claims will be considered or allowed for these characteristics depicted on our stair treads. A restock fee will apply to all returns as well as any and all freight-related costs of uninstalled or cut stair treads.
